The Open University (UK) and The Chinese University of Hong Kong
Bringing you the 5th International m-libraries conference May 27 - 30, 2014

英國公開大學與香港中文大學
為您呈獻第五屆國際流動圖書館會議 2014年5月27-30日

Biography of Md. Maidul Islam

Md. Maidul Islam works as a Lecturer in the Department of Information Science and Library Management (ISLM), Faculty of Arts, University of Dhaka, Bangladesh. He obtained first class first position with distinctions in both his Bachelor of Arts (BA) Honours and Master of Arts (MA) final examinations in ISLM. His research interests revolve around human use of electronic information products and services. He is particularly interested in exploring the factors affecting end-users' searching of information retrieval (IR) systems and in adopting a user-centered approach in designing user interfaces. His research areas cover LIS Education, Digital Library, Knowledge Management, Knowledge Sharing, Human Computer Interaction (HCI), Informatics, Information Literacy, Information Science, Information Theory (Mathematics) and related areas. He has publications on renowned peer reviewed international journals i.e., Performance Measurement and Metrics [UK], IFLA Journal [UK], International Journal of Library and Information Science [UK], Library Philosophy and Practice [USA] as well as have a book chapter published by the Maldives Library Association [Maldives] and a book published from Lap Lambert [Germany] to his credit. He is presently performing his Master of Philosophy (MPhil) in the area on the digital divide.