

Biography of Joan Wee

Joan Wee is a Senior Librarian with the Nanyang Technology University (NTU) library (New Media Group and Economics) where she tracks emerging technologies and trends, which are relevant in the higher education landscape. She collaborates closely with faculty and other users to design blogs and provide consultation and training on applying of appropriate social media tools and strategies that effectively support the teaching, research, community building and marketing needs of the user. Together with Ms Karryl Sagun from Rizal Library, she started the 23 Mobile Things Programme in Singapore and Philippines, a tailored self-paced, self-exploratory online course that brings together media-savvy professionals to share about different mobile tools and applications under a defined 23 Mobile tools. To date, they have more than 200 participants joining them. Joan graduated from National University of Singapore with a degree in Arts and Social Sciences, majoring in Economics and General Mathematics, and received her master's degree in library science from the Nanyang Technological University in Singapore. Prior to becoming a librarian, she had 11 years of Customer Services and Operations Management experience.