

Biography of Johan Tilstra

Johan Tilstra is a project manager at the Utrecht University Library. He holds a MSc in Computer Technology and a MA in Literary Theory and has a strong interest in innovative technologies. He focusses on data driven development and user experience issues. Among the projects that he managed was an overhaul of the mobile site for the University Library, and the development of a mobile app that notifies users about their loans.