

Biography of Dr. Zvezdana Dukic

Dr. Zvezdana Dukic has been working as librarian in academic, medical and school libraries in Croatia, UK and Hong Kong. At the moment she is appointed as an adjunct lecture at HKU SPACE and teaches various courses in the area of library and information management.

Her professional and research interests are particularly focused on digital libraries, e-learning, and applying modern information and communication technologies in libraries.

Dr. Dukic has been giving presentations in many international conferences and published papers in international journals. She has also received awards for her work from the International Association of School Librarians (2008) and by Hong Kong Teacher Librarians' Association (2005).